Owning a home at 661 Chapel St is to know you've arrived. You embrace that understanding every time you gaze out through your floor to ceiling windows. Each level has a stunning view, with its own perspective. From the top, the views are expansive, a panorama that reveals the variety of your neighbourhood and a dramatic, ever-changing city skyline.

Lower levels are equally impressive, but more intimate, with the relaxing sight of the Yarra River and those enjoying its ambling majesty. Because of its unique location, 661 Chapel St's uninterrupted views can never be built out. These sweeping views encompass not only the iconic river, but also Melbourne's CBD, impressive night or day, bay views to the south, and the greenery of the park-like campus of Melbourne High School.

Easy options for travelling to the city include a tram stop right outside the entrance, South Yarra Station a mere eight-minute's walk away with just two stops to Flinders Street Station, or a bike ride along the river for a more leisurely commute.

A REFLECTIVE VISION. A LOCATION WITHOUT EQUAL.

Design inspiration came from the site's history and the views of Melbourne and the Yarra River, with the building's curved form designed to respond to the bend in the river it overlooks.

661 Chapel St comprises spacious one, two, three and four bedroom residences across 30 magnificent floors, including a duplex penthouse with a private rooftop. A soaring private lobby spanning four levels features a gallery-like space filled with renowned artworks, and six-star hotel-like amenities on the ground floor and level six all combine to deliver the ultimate luxury lifestyle experience.

Nestled within South Yarra, a highly-coveted enclave that is a gathering place for Melbourne's elite, 661 Chapel St is positioned close to all the vibrancy this sophisticated end of Chapel Street has to offer, as well as the sedate environs of the river and green open spaces when relaxation is needed.
